Cambridge President Amy Webber Named 2016 Financial Services Institute Board Chair

Fairfield, IA – December 21, 2015 – Cambridge Investment Research, Inc. (Cambridge) announced President Amy Webber will serve as 2016 Financial Services Institute (FSI) board chair. FSI is an advocacy organization for independent broker-dealers and their affiliated independent financial advisors.

Webber brings over 25 years of industry experience and a year spent as 2015 FSI Board Vice Chair as she partners with FSI and its members to continue advancing their primary goal of using focused advocacy to help independent financial services firms and affiliated financial advisors. The mission of FSI is to ensure that all individuals have access to competent and affordable financial advice, products and services delivered by the growing network of independent financial advisors and independent financial services firms.

Members of FSI direct their advocacy efforts toward Washington, D.C. and the states where they engage with regulators and legislators in their grassroots efforts to create positive change in financial and state legislation. Since its inception in 2004, the organization has grown to encompass more than 100 independent financial services firms and their 160,000-plus affiliated financial advisors.

Webber is one of 17 financial services leaders on the FSI board and will assume her role as chair on January 1, 2016.

About FSI

The Financial Services Institute (FSI) is the only organization advocating solely on behalf of independent financial advisors and independent financial services firms. Since 2004, through advocacy, education and public awareness, FSI has successfully promoted a more responsible regulatory environment for more than 100 independent financial services firm members and their 160,000+ affiliated financial advisors – which comprise over sixty percent of all producing registered representatives. FSI effects change through involvement in FINRA governance as well as constructive engagement in the regulatory and legislative processes, working to create a healthier regulatory environment for our members so they can provide affordable, objective advice to hard-working Main Street Americans.
